Underway Now! Call For Papers

Submission deadline: October 30th

The theme for the PAPOR conference historically has been eclectic. The best ideas can become panels or presentations in panels.

Some proposed panels:

- The presidential primaries and 2008 general election.
- Survey design and methodological issues, including cell phones and on-line polling.
- Public policy issues, including gay rights, immigration, the energy policy, health care.
- A “Western States” round table on the issues that drive discussion in your state.
- The PAPOR conference is member driven - so submit a paper or panel topic of your own!

Extraordinary Short Course Opportunity

- The renowned Professor Don Dillman will teach a course on his groundbreaking work from his newly updated classic, Internet, Mail and Mixed-Mode Surveys: The Tailored Design Method. The course is always popular as Don provides insight into the use and integration of telephone, mail and internet – the cutting edge in 21st Century survey methodology. Also, the class will provide 2.5 hours in the PRC certification research category.

Plenary Session

WAPOR President Michael Traugott will present the plenary address which is followed by dinner and conversation. For more information, go to PAPOR website at www.PAPOR.org.

Student Paper Competition! Dedicated Poster Session! Prizes!

All winners and poster presenters receive recognition at the conference from the top public opinion scholars and professionals of PAPOR! Prizes and travel courtesy of the PAPOR conference sponsors. Winners also get to present their paper at AAPOR’s annual Conference.

Conference Location: Sir Francis Drake Hotel

To make reservations at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, call the hotel directly at 800-227-5480 before November 6. Be sure to tell them you are with the “PAPOR Annual Meeting” to get the discounted rate of $169, plus tax, for single or double occupancy.
