Papers should focus on survey methods, public opinion, or market research. Topics could include, but are not limited to: substantive findings about public opinion on any subject, statistical techniques or methodological issues, new technologies or methodologies, or theoretical issues in the formation, change, or measurement of public opinion. We encourage entries from any field that employs survey and opinion research, including political science, communication, psychology, sociology, marketing, health studies, and many others.

Submissions should be authored by graduate or undergraduate students currently attending colleges and universities in PAPOR’s geographic region: California, Oregon, Washington, Hawaii, Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, or Wyoming. Student and non-student coauthors are permitted but travel expenses and honorary memberships will go to only one student author.

The submission window opens September 1st at 6am and closes October 9th at midnight PST. The entries will be judged by a panel of researchers selected from PAPOR’s membership.

Entries should not exceed 30 pages total. Please submit your paper to studentpaper@papor.org with your name, mailing address, telephone number, email address, and university. Email in advance with any questions. Good luck!
